QUICK HITS

- Nolan Newton put the Bruins on the board early with his first career NAHL goal on Saturday night. The French River, Ontario native was 3rd in the NOJHL with 37 goals in 45 games with the Greater Sudbury Cubs
- Victor Nilsson Dalsjö also found the back of the net to tie the game for the Bruins in the second period, marking his first goal in the NAHL
- While it wasn't the first goal of his career, Gus Elbert's game winner in overtime was the veteran defenseman's first career penalty shot and his first tally of the season
- Newcomer Brendan Murray found himself on the scorecard twice last night, picking up assists on both Netwon and Nilsson Dalsjö's goals, the forward's first points as an Austin Bruin
- Philip Larsson snapped a seven-game point drought with his primary assit on Newton's goal
- In five home games played at Riverside Arena this season, three of those games have gone to overtime with the Black and Gold coming out victorious in all three

The Austin Bruins' 2026-27 season marks the team's 17th year competing in the North American Hockey League (NAHL). Founded in 2010 by Craig Patrick, the Bruins brought junior hockey back to Austin for the first time since the Austin Mavericks called Riverside Arena home from 1974 to 1985.
In their first 16 seasons, the Black and Gold have failed to qualify for the playoffs only three times, with a fourth season ending without a postseason due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Bruins have competed in the NAHL's Central Division throughout their entire history, earning eight top-two finishes and capturing the division's regular-season crown five times. While Austin has yet to claim the league's ultimate prize—the coveted Robertson Cup—the franchise has reached the Cup Final three times, including back-to-back appearances in 2013-14 and 2014-15. Their most recent trip came in the 2022-23 season.

The 2025–26 season was a landmark year for the Austin Bruins. On the ice, the team broke five individal season records, three individual career records and was the winningest team in the organization's history. The 2025-26 Bruins capped off the historic season by clinching both regular season and post-season Central division titles, punching their ticket the Robertson Cup Semifinals. To cap it all off, the Bruins were proud to be recognized as the 2025–26 NAHL Organization of the Year, highlighting the continued growth and strong community support surrounding Bruins hockey.

Player development has always been a cornerstone of the Bruins' identity, with alumni advancing to Division I and Division III college hockey, professional leagues, and even the National Hockey League (NHL). Five former Bruins have reached the NHL: Christian Folin, CJ Smith, Mads Søgaard, Nico Sturm, and Nikolai Knyzhov. Sturm is the only alumnus to hoist the Stanley Cup, doing so with both the Colorado Avalanche and Florida Panthers.
